EVIDENCE OF PRIEST SUPPORTS HER STORY

Complaining Witness Says She Refused Cyril Boothby by 3 Times in Year

Cecil Boothby, charged with intimidating Alice Aslin, daughter of the storekeeper at Alcomdale, with a view to persuading her to marry him, was found over to keep the peace in the sum of $2,000, by Magistrate Stedman. A personal bond of $2,000 and one other bond of $2,000 each were called for by the court.

"In this whole matter I think you have acted very fairly, but I am sure you are the best of the best," said the magistrate.

Boothby denied making either of the above threats adding: "I believe that Ferguson had been trying to make up something against me and has not quite succeeded."

At 2 p.m. Thursday the hearing was adjourned until Friday afternoon.

George Van Allen appeared for the Aslins and H. Emery represented Boothby.

Scientists Will Hold Inquest to Determine Longevity of the Sun

Exclusive to Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—A scientific inquest, from which may come a more accurate knowledge of how much longer the sun will continue to serve humanity, will be performed in January, next.

Dr. W. W. Coblentz, of the United States bureau of standards, Dr. C. O. Abbot, of Smithson Institution, and other scientists are in the effort, preparing to study the solar spectrum in January.

British Troops May Aid North Ireland to Subdue Mutiny

BELFAST BARRACKS MAY BE SURROUNDED

Constabulary Given Ultimatum Saturday to Return to Their Duties

Special Bulletin Cable

BELFAST, Dec. 18.—The revolt of the Ulster constabulary, which has been going on since Saturday, has been a great success. The constabulary, which has been running the play for several weeks, has achieved a great triumph.

BELFAST, Dec. 18.—Replying today to the ultimatum of Sir James Craig, the Ulster constabulary declared they intended to stand firm until they were "burned out."

The constabulary have been in possession of the barracks in Belfast and of other strategic positions in Ulster since Monday, when they announced that they would rebel unless paid or kept on duty up to £40 a week.

The British government is prepared to help. It is stated that troops will be sent for the purpose of surrounding the Belfast barracks and forcing them to come into line.
